CAN I FLY IF MY DRIVER LICENSE IS EXPIRED?
The Transportation Security Administration (TSA) states: “Travelers with a state driver’s license that expired beginning on March 1, 2020, and who are not able to renew at their state driver’s license agency may still use it as acceptable identification at the checkpoint. TSA will accepted expired driver’s licenses a year after the expiration date, plus 60 days after the duration of the COVID-19 national emergency.” We have joined other states in requesting a formal extension of the federally compliant driver license deadline. Please see TSA’s website for further information.
